House amendment to the 3rd edition makes the following changes.

Amends the definition of responsible party in new GS 130A-19.1 (abatement of PFAS exceedances), so that it means a per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) manufacturer: (1) whose direct discharge of PFAS into surface waters of the State has caused or contributed to the presence of PFAS in a public water system; and (2) who has entered a consent order that establishes required compliance measures to address discharges of PFAS to surface water (was, A PFAS manufacturer whose discharge or release of PFAS into the environment has caused or contributed to the presence of PFAS in a public water system). Requires a public water system to have incurred costs in excess of $50 million to remove, correct, or abate adverse effects upon the water supply resulting from contamination by the responsible party in order for the Secretary to order that responsible party to pay the public water system the actual and necessary costs of repair, as described. Senate amendments make the following changes to the 2nd edition.

Amendment #1

Section 2.

Modifies the five listed requirements that the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ), Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (DACs), and a unit of local government (as applicable), are required to waive so long as it does not conflict with the described obligations under federal law as follows. Requires that the persons or entities undertaking an activity that would normally require the specified solid waste composting permit provide the described notice to DEQ by at least ten days prior to beginning operations. Removes the waiver for stormwater and sedimentation and erosion control requirements. Instead, waives approval of erosion and sediment control plans under the described regulation where the activities do not involve removal of trees or other existing ground cover. Makes technical, clarifying, and conforming changes.

Requires persons or entities undertaking activities that would otherwise be subject to the five listed requirements that are waived by the act to provide the described notice to DEQ and DACs, except for those undertaking an activity that would normally require the specified solid waste composting permit (who are already subject to separate notice requirements under the act, described above). Limits individual sites to a maximum allowance of 25,000 cubic yards, as described. Clarifies that a waiver under the act does not exempt the activities from complying with other applicable regulations. Provides for limits on depth for mulch used for temporary erosion control. Provides for determination of normally accepted agronomic rates for materials to be used as a soil amendment, as specified. Effective when the section becomes law and expires July 1, 2027. Requires that any material managed under these provisions must be removed from the site for its intended purpose by no later than July 1, 2027.

Requires all units of local government in counties designated before, on, or after the act's effective date under a major disaster declaration by the President as a result of Hurricane Helene managing vegetative debris removal within their jurisdictions to transport the material to a composting site for reuse as mulch or soil amendment when the transportation and disposal costs for processing tree stumps and other vegetative debris at the composting site are equal to or less than the costs associated with the transportation and disposal at a landfill. Directs DEQ and DACS to comply with the requirements above to the extent they assist local governments with such debris. Effective when the section becomes law and expires on July 1, 2027.
